Earned Value

Acronym	Term	Formula	Notes
AC	Actual Cost
PV	Planned Value		planned value of work scheduled for a given period of time
EV	Earned Value		planned value of work completed over a given period of time
CV	Cost Variance	$CV = EV - AC$	if less than zero, over budget
SV	Schedule Variance	$SV = EV - PV$	if less than zero, behind schedule
CPI	Cost Performance Index	$CPI = EV / AC$	if less than one, over budget
SPI	Schedule Performance Index	$SPI = EV / PV$	if less than one, behind schedule

Forecasting

Acronym	Term	Formula	To-Complete Performance Index (TCPI)
BAC	Budget at Completion		to achieve
ETC	Estimate to Complete		planned BAC
EAC	Estimate at Completion	see below	to achieve
VAC	Variance at Completion	$VAC = BAC - EAC$	current EAC

Four methods of determining EAC

Manually re-estimate remaining work: $EAC = AC + ETC$

Assume variance was atypical, and remaining work can be performed at planned rate: $EAC = AC + BAC - EV$

Assume variance indicates a systemic problem, and that remaining work will be performed at present CPI rate: $EAC = AC + (BAC - EV) / CPI$

Assume variance indicates a systemic problem, and that remaining work will be performed at a rate which takes CPI and SPI into account: $EAC = AC + (BAC - EV) / (CPI * SPI)$

*Adding the ⁻² superscript to any earned value parameter, e.g., CPI^2 , signifies cumulative value from the beginning of the project, rather than value for the current reporting period.

For more information on earned value: PMBOK® Guide, Fifth Edition, page 224.

Risk

Risk score (RS) = Probability * Impact

For behavior that fits a normal probability distribution curve:

Confidence interval:	Likelihood (confidence level) that behavior will fall within interval:
± 1σ	68.27%
± 2σ	95.45%
± 3σ	99.73%
± 5σ	99.999999%

Greek symbol sigma (σ) represents standard deviation, or the "average" amount of variation from the mean

PERT formula for Standard Deviation (SD): $SD = (Pessimistic - Optimistic) / 6$

Thank you! Definitely time to relax (and... maybe a covert beer, before curfew of course ;))

4:44 pm

You

Your score is very high. Would you do me the favor to share the lesson learned how you prepare your study and successfully pass an exam.

I'd be happy to, though I'm not very good at that kind of thing. I generally took as many practice tests as I could, created customized tests for knowledge/domain areas that were showing below 60% scores, and scheduled the exam when I was getting mostly 70%+ scores.

4:46 pm

I can collect my thoughts and provide a fuller response later

4:47 pm

I think our discussions in class really helped, and by taking the practice exams I could recall things you taught us

4:47 pm

You

Did you feel having the issues about literature in the questions?

I felt the questions on the actual exam were a bit less intense, and allowed for more intuitive responses drawing upon knowledge gained in studies, whereas the practice exam questions required very close attention to detail to avoid getting "tricked".

4:50 pm

In the end, I'm glad the practice exams were difficult like that as it forces you to pay attention and review concepts.

4:51 pm

That said, I was sure I had failed the exam when I entered my last response... haha

4:51 pm

It is the same comments from other candidates who has recently passed exam a month ago that the real exam is less difficult compared to the practice exam. However, I believe PMI keep chaging coz I got some comments from certain period that the real exam is too difficult and ambiguous.
